

Here's a short list of books we have bought, or have borrowed from the library, and/or plan to buy featuring diverse and inclusive stories and people. I've tried to indicate below whether the story is LGBTQ+ or Racially/Culturally diverse. Some like, Queen of the Hannukah Dosas, is a Hanukkah story featuring an Jewish-Indian family, but most are non-holiday related, featuring adults and kids of a variety of races, cultures, religions, etc. Also, Titan and the Wild Boars is the story of the real-life rescue of the Thai soccer team. I am happy to help provide more context or detailed summary for any of these titles. -SRMH

Purple = LGBTQ+ characters

Green = BIPOC characters

Red: A Crayon Story

Julian is a Mermaid

Sparkle Boy

Queen of the Hannukah Dosas

Chicken Soup Chicken Soup

World Pizza

Hair Love

Big Hair, Don't Care

A Boy Like You

I Believe I Can

The Name Jar

Introducing Teddy

Salam Alekheim

Worm Loves Worm

Titan and the Wild Boars

And Tango Makes Three

Down at the Beach

Thank you, Omu